As an XM Satellite Radio Subscriber, I pay hard earned money to listen to programming not offered on FCC Regulated Radio. It should not be up to the FCC and National Association of Broadcasters to regulate what people pay for when it comes to traffic and weather. I PAY to listen to traffic and weather along with the other stations XM Radio offers so I do not have to listen to "regular radio." Specifically, the traffic and weather channel helps me figure out the best way I can travel to my work destinations. As someone who constantly travels throughout the day, I rely on the traffic station of XM Radio. I do not have the time to listen to public radio for the traffic to come on every thirty or so minutes. Let the NAB influence the FCC all they want on public radio, but leave the Satellite Radio alone. I urge the FCC to reject NAB Petition 04-160.
Respectfully,

Michael Abrams
